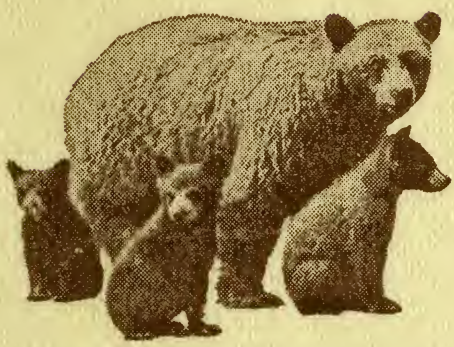
Welcome to...

Yellowstone

NATIONAL PARK



Yellowstone is synonomous with black bears. They are commonly seen along the Grand Loop Highway that circles Yellowstone. Although bears sometimes appear to be brown or cinnamon in color, all are members of the same animal family. They emerge from wintertime hibernation about the same time that park entrances are opened each spring to tourists.